Hello and a Happy Spring to you all.

I'm excited for spring because it promises warmer weather, bright sunshine and flowers peeking out all over. On Easter Sunday our weather hit a high of 78° so we were able to enjoy the outdoors after our family dinner, the first in over a year. I hope you had an enjoyable Easter.

This morning I enjoyed my coffee outside while strolling around my wildflower garden. As you can imagine, I made a mental list of clearing debris. There are several tender flower sprouts peeking up through the soil. I plan on cleaning up my garden starting on Wednesday. Should be good weather at 64° and sunshine.

Lisa MacDonald is our guest this month. She will be talking to us about her graphic book covers, custom covers, and the best way to make sure your book cover and title is eye-catching.

On April 9 – 11th, I'll be attending our Annual Writing Retreat with my three author friends. I'm excited to spend time with them for they are my inspiration. We have fun chatting, eating, and disappearing to our individual rooms to write, edit, and create. A couple of years ago, Mary, presented each of us with a sweatshirt with our logo which Lisa created.
